Jump Start
for Grad Students
At a Glance

Re-organizing Habits and Space for a Virtual Environment

Since online learning is the new space where you'll carry out all your classes and complete your assignments, it is important to arrange our space and mindset to fit the new environment. In this presentation, we will go through the ways you can set up your space, organize your notes/laptop and develop new habits to help with this new shift.

[Watch Webinar]

Communication in the Online Domain

In this presentation, students will learn how to communicate via online domains by using appropriate language, intention and clarity. These modes of communication include chats, peer feedback, discussion posts, threads and emails.

[Watch Webinar]

Online Learning for International Students

This workshop gives international students practical tips on how to manage their distance learning from outside of Canada including time management, use of technology platforms and academic communication with professors and classmates.

[Watch Webinar]

Navigating Brightspace

Students will learn how to access Brightspace, find their courses, access course content, and use Discussions, Quizzes, Dropbox, etc. to complete course requirements.

[Watch Webinar]

Navigating Teams

Practice how to access and collaborate on Teams. Students will learn how to access Teams to use as a learning and collaborative platform. They will learn how to access and install Office 365 and a brief overview of Office 365 applications such as Word, PowerPoint, Excel,Outlook, OneDrive & Teams etc used by students in their academic curriculum.

[Watch Webinar]

Navigating Zoom and Office 365

Practice how to access and collaborate on other learning platforms such as Office 365 and Zoom. Students will learn how to access and install Office 365 and a brief overview of Office 365 applications such as Word, PowerPoint, Excel,Outlook, OneDrive & Teams etc used by students in their academic curriculum.

[Watch Webinar]

Library Research Toolkit Series

The Library Research Toolkit Series supports students to build research skills, covering topics including Navigating the Library for Advanced Researchers, Internet Expertise for Researchers, Literature Reviews, Managing Research with RefWorks, and Statistics and Data Discovery Tools.

[Watch Webinar Series]

SAINT MARY'S UNIVERSITY | THE STUDIO FOR TEACHING & LEARNING